VOL. XXII.—NO. 6576. PORTLAND, OREGON, THURSDAY, MAY 25, 1882.

GENERAL NEWS.

A Rousing Letter on Bossism from Thos. Marshall.

MEETING OF THE GREENBACKERS

Extremely Cold Weather in Iowa and Other Mississippi Valley States—Damage to Fruit and Other Crops.

[illegible] Marshall [illegible] a letter [illegible] chairman of the committee, which letter [illegible] Mr Marshall [illegible] tion as being a long stride forward in the direction of the [illegible]

[illegible] and maintain [illegible] that the public trusts should be administered with the same scrupulous fidelity as private trusts, and that no diversion [illegible] the [illegible] and faithful public servants in order to provide places for hungry applicants [illegible] worthless as they are [illegible] consideration [illegible]

[illegible] have sided in some degree [illegible] attention to those vital questions of the hour would have been my duty as a nominee. The great moral and political ideas which called the republican party into existence have become embodied in the organic law of the land. It is the mission of the present party organization to go forward in the spirit of the platform. It should succeed. If it is to be true to the full measure of its purpose it should perish. Mere party [illegible] gations set very lightly on my shoulders. The [illegible] upon me [illegible] service was a genuine surprise and one not likely to be repeated in a lifetime. It came without expectation and should not be declined without [illegible] and commanding reasons. Such exist [illegible] Personal and private duties in which the public takes no interest demand that all my energies be devoted to their fulfillment. I therefore must decline the proffered position.

(Signed) JAMES M. MARSHALL.

An Alcoholic Subject.

New York, May 24.—The Commercial Advertiser prints a story under Washington date to the effect that Secretary Folger had made examination into the character of [illegible] given by many distillers to secure to government the payment of a tax on whisky in bonded warehouses and has discovered enough evidence to show that straw bonds have been executed in hundreds of cases and are now held by the government for millions of dollars worth of whisky now in bonded warehouses. [illegible] whisky which has also been made [illegible] distillers take out their licenses in the names of subordinates so that they can become bondsmen for their own production. It is believed that gross frauds have been perpetrated upon the government in connection with these bonds equal in extent to the straw bond frauds in the postoffice department for many years past. It is believed that when the whole business comes to light there will be revealed one of the most gigantic and systematic attempts to impose upon the government ever attempted. [illegible]

[illegible]

Weather.

Davenport, May 24.—[illegible] snow storm [illegible] snow fell [illegible]

Muscatine, May 23.—About two inches of snow fell last night, but at [illegible] damage was caused by Sunday night's frost, but crops generally promise well.

Keokuk, May 24.—The Constitution special from Bonaparte, and Prairie City, reports snow has fallen from half an inch to two inches this morning and some little frost, but no serious damage is done so far as known at any point named. At Oskaloosa there were four inches of snow. Fruit and vegetables are all damaged, but it is generally believed the Sunday night's frost was the more damaging one.

Cedar Rapids, May 23.—Weather was cloudy last night with light snow early this morning. Fruit is not materially hurt. A Republican special indicates there was material damage at State Center, and further west.

Ottumwa, May 23.—The heavy frost Sunday and half an inch snow last night, which showed plainly two hours after sunrise, did no damage whatever to grain. The tenderer vegetables suffered somewhat but fruit was not perceptibly injured, and at 2 P.M. there is no prospect of frost to-night.

Snow is an inch deep at Mt. Pleasant.

Minneapolis, May 24.—The cold weather for the past few days culminated in a sharp frost last night. Wheat was nipped and a few fruit buds and such vegetables as were above ground. Advices from points along the St. Paul Minneapolis & Manitoba and Northern Pacific roads show that frost in those sections nipped the fruit buds and early garden vegetables, but did no further damage.

Jacksonville, Ill., May 23.—There has been frost in this section for several nights past, but not hard enough to seriously injure crops.

Judge Laughlin's Virtuous Indignation.

St. Louis, May 23.—The remarkable proceedings of Judge Laughlin in the Hadley Waterloo contempt case is the all absorbing topic. Late last night it was discovered that ex-Judge Horatio M. James was the author of the offensive criticism. This morning, from the bench of the criminal court Judge Laughlin said the situation was not materially changed. He knew the name of the writer and sooner or later he would settle the matter with Waterloo. Last evening he had intended to take off his badge of servitude and resign. Now he would not retreat under fire. The author was beneath contempt. He was a chronic slanderer and coward. Judge Haydon, on behalf of Waterloo, accepted full responsibility for the article and refused to apologize. The court's action was illegal, and the case stands, therefore, over.

Greenback Labor Convention.

St. Louis, May 23.—The national committee of the greenback labor party met this morning. West Virginia was the only state not represented. It was moved and carried that a committee be appointed to formulate an address to the people, of which 2,000,000 copies should be printed. The chairman announced the following as the committee: J. B. Baldwin of Connecticut, [illegible] of Pennsylvania, E. H. Gillette of Iowa, James Buchanan of Indiana, E. Rowe of New York, [illegible] of Michigan, R. W. Hutter of Florida, W. Martin of District of Columbia, Jas. B. Weaver of Iowa, [illegible] of New York and Samuel W. [illegible] of Kansas.

Recess was then taken [illegible]

The committee has promulgated an address to the American people, leveled against the banks, railroad, telegraph land and moneyed monopolies, and charges the republican and democratic parties with bad legislation in the interest of bank [illegible] It declares against national banks, high railroad fares and telegraph tolls, in favor of land for actual settlers, for greenbacks and a tariff in the interest of labor for the right of labor to combine for the payment of the national debt and against refunding it, for equal rights for all, special privileges for none, and ends by calling on all industrial organizations to join them.

An Indian's Letter.

Chicago, May 23.—Gen. Sheridan, as a specimen of what education will do, shows the following letter from an Indian:

Darlington Indian Territory, May 1.—Gen. P. H. Sheridan, U. S. A., Chicago, Ill.—Dear Sir: It is a long time ago I will write to you and I never get from any letter, and I will try send to you a letter again. All the Cheyenne chiefs he knew about what you said, and told you last letter about what you have been doing here in 1874, and I hope that you will write to me very sooner. I shall be very glad to hear from you. That is all I say to you. Respectfully, W. M. LITTLE, Chief.

Worthy of Jules Verne.

Chicago, May 24.—The Journal's Washington special says the latest polar scheme is by J. Palmaris, of the Belgium Geographical Society, now visiting this country. He has devoted much time to Arctic study, and proposes to explore polar regions in a cigar-shaped steel vessel running under water and obtaining oxygen by decomposition. Palmaris says the experiments he has made develop the practicability of his scheme. He proposes a sixty days voyage north from Spitzbergen.

A Chicago Episode.

Chicago, May 23.—Dr. Stephen, of Fort Wayne, formerly a Methodist minister here, preached last Sunday evening and was taught to [illegible] his successor, Dr. Swearingen, [illegible] He walked down the aisle and offered [illegible] at once. Swearingen retaliated [illegible] arrested for assault, and when brought into the police office [illegible] his adversary [illegible] was adjourned.

Railroad Notes.

Chicago, May 23.—A meeting will [illegible] this week [illegible] points, particularly [illegible] vania cities.

J. O. McMullen, of the Chicago and [illegible] fused to accept a [illegible] trains, which [illegible] of the board [illegible]

Charged with Embezzlement.

Geo. Rosser [illegible] ditor [illegible] swer to the charge [illegible] that company.

Circuit Court Decision.

New York, May 24.—In the action [illegible] B. Cladin & Co. of this city against [illegible] Kennedy, John Dan and [illegible] McDonald of San Francisco [illegible] transactions involving the amount of $550, [illegible] interest argument was heard to-day in the United States circuit court on a demurrer to the complaint and a decision rendered. Judge Lewis [illegible] has intimated that the [illegible] established that judgment and execution [illegible] a bond were essential to a [illegible] court.

An Indian Scare.

Chicago, May 24.—A letter [illegible] citizens [illegible] Texas [illegible] says an Indian raid is [illegible] parties of hostile Apaches going northwest [illegible] Mexico, New Mexico [illegible] Texas rangers [illegible] parties [illegible]

A Wrong Avenged.

Little Rock, May 24.—Early this morning W. S. Whitten left Russellville on the Fort Smith railroad with the widow of Ed. W. McIlhenny. The latter had been following them since and on Monday found the guilty parties living man and wife at Carlisle on the Memphis railroad. 21 miles from Little Rock and had Whitten arrested. As the parties left the magistrate's court angry words passed. When he [illegible] drew revolvers and began firing at close range. After eight ineffectual shots Whitten ran. McPherson followed, whereupon Whitten turned and received a bullet in the part [illegible] McPherson was arrested.

Presbyterian General Assembly.

Springfield, Ill., May [illegible].—The Presbyterian general assembly this morning received the minority report presented by J. B. Blaney from the committee on the board [illegible] and ordered it printed. C. L. Thompson from the committee on church [illegible] presented a report and explained its important points. W. O. Roberts opened discussion and was followed by J. F. Lister of Kansas, L. [illegible] of San Francisco, Rev. R. W. Hill of Oregon and Rev. M. L. Cook of Montana. [illegible] report was adopted and recess taken till 2 P. M.

Adjustment of Prices.

Wheeling, W. Va., May 24.—A conference was held here this evening between the iron manufacturers of this city and vicinity and a committee of the amalgamated association of iron and steel workers. The latter submitted a new scale of wages for nailers, rollers and heaters which if adopted would govern all mills west of the Alleghanies, and manufacturers refused to sign the scale. The result will be the closing of all mills in the district for an indefinite time.

A Fraud Exposed.

Philadelphia, May 24.—The mayor received a letter this morning from Sarah Brown, grand-daughter of John Brown, warning the public against a colored man named E. W. Hall, who pretended to collect money for her mother, daughter of John Brown. She says he is doing this upon his own responsibility, and that Mrs. Brown is not in need, having been placed in comfortable circumstances by a fund raised by the people of California over a year ago.

An Extended Opposition.

Philadelphia, May 23.—The Times says Marshall's letter declining the nomination for congressman at large will be racy and pungent and will leave no doubt in the public mind as to his present political status. He heartily sympathizes with the independents on their last bolt against bossism, and is implacable in his hostility to the present Senator Cameron as he was in his hostility to the elder Cameron more than 30 years ago.

Pennsylvania Independent Convention.

Philadelphia, May 23.—Probably two-thirds of the delegates to the independent republican convention are now here. State Chairman McKee says he has letters and telegrams from which he gathers that most of the other delegates will be on hand in the morning and the convention be opened. Marshall's withdrawal from the regular ticket gives great satisfaction to delegates.

Examining the Bids.

New York, May 23.—Commissioner Price of the interior department was busy all day with a large force of clerks opening and reading bids for Indian supplies at the rooms of the department, [illegible] Wooster street. Samples will be examined to-morrow and awards will then be made.

Fire at Waldron, Ark.

Fort Smith, Ark., May 24.—A fire at Waldron, Scott county, this morning destroyed the court house and contents, including the records of the county, and John Bliss' warehouse. It also burned an incendiary.

Oregon Stock Quotations.

New York, May 24.—Oregon Railway and Navigation Co., [illegible]; Oregon Improvement [illegible]; Oregon Improvement Co. bonds, 85½.

The Manitoulin's Wreck.

Collingwood, May 24.—Latest advices from the wreck of the steamer Manitoulin, burned near Killarney, places the number lost from 20 to 25. The names of those known to be lost are as follows: Robert Henry, Thomas Sunbury and wife, George White of Collingwood, James Lewis of Algoma county, Will J. Little of Sullivan, Mayfield & Co., John Hogan, P. Fitzpatrick and a little girl named [illegible] It is feared [illegible] Probably the names of all the victims will never be known.

Damaging Collision.

Boston, May 24.—Herald's Montreal special: The cattle train crashed into the [illegible] train between Victoria bridge and the [illegible] last night, wrecking the Victoria bridge and [illegible] locomotives and baggage cars. Some passengers were terribly bruised but no one killed. The damage to rolling stock is $25,000.

Prof. Koch's Discovery.

The definite ascertainment [illegible] a German physiologist that tuberculosis—consumption—is caused by the nesting of minute parasites in the tissues of the lungs is being widely discussed by medical authorities in both Europe and America. The New York Medical News says:

In the facts laid before our readers may lie the solution of the problem so long regarded [illegible] the cure of tuberculosis. If Pasteur's culture experiments have led to the discovery of a method by which the poison of splenic fever is rendered harmless and the disease prevented by the timely [illegible] [illegible]

ORDERS TO CUSTOMS OFFICERS.

The Bond Counterfeiting Expose Agitating Government Circles in Washington.

[illegible] Brockway [illegible] Dr. Jay [illegible] came about [illegible] plates [illegible] All that is necessary to carry on that trade is to have some one in the bureau of engraving and printing furnish impressions of the dies of the government and then a thousand [illegible] [illegible] the clerk of the treasury department to-day is that Brockway, Smyth and Doyle would all be allowed to go free. The late variation at Brooklyn last Saturday was an affair of Bill Woods entirely. He was not even working with the treasury officials when he caused the arrest of Smyth. He got permission from the district attorney Corkhill to make the arrest and obtained a warrant from the marshal of the district. He made an attempt to get hold of Brockway, but Brockway's friends knew of this in advance and got him out of town, so that while the vigilant Bill Woods was looking for the distinguished Brockway the latter gentleman was closeted with the secretary of the treasury making a statement about the operations of the Brockway, Smyth and Doyle gang. If the treasury department had really wanted Mr. Brockway it would have been very easy to arrest him while he was in Mr. Folger's office. But he was allowed to go after his statement and is at present as free as any citizen of the United States. One of the most significant facts here is the statement of Bill Woods, printed in New York, in which he says he called upon John Sherman and gave him an outline of this affair. People here are asking why John Sherman should have been called into the case at all. He was not secretary of the treasury. This last development, so all of these tails, is one of the worst blows the treasury department has ever received.

There have been plenty of people who believed the treasury department was thoroughly corrupt in many of its branches. The senate investigation committee last winter developed any amount of petty thieving hardly dreamed of by the most suspicious, but revelations of these latter doings surpass everything, from the fact that it is possible that the currency may have been duplicated to a much greater extent than anyone could believe. There were $20,000 worth of bonds captured upon Doyle and one of the minions of the secret service here says those bonds were as good that he took them to ascertain bank in Chicago and the cashier told him after being told they were counterfeit, he still would take them without hesitation. He believes they were genuine in spite of the statement, and said they were plenty good enough to do business with. Now the government has no evidence that the bonds captured with Doyle were all that were out, and no reason to suppose that millions of them might not have been printed and that they have already been added to the circulation of the country. It is natural to suppose that counterfeiters were going to print any of them, but it they would print more than two hundred of them. There is no connection with this case so far as government is concerned, and not much in the way of definite information. Heads of administration are very much agitated over the disclosure, and are doing their best to quiet everything down so as not to create a panic.

Mr. Hitt's Testimony.

Robert R. Hitt, ex-assistant secretary of state, to-day, before the house committee on foreign affairs testified touching matters connected with the Chili-Peruvian investigation. Witness had no personal knowledge of any connection of any minister plenipotentiary of the United States with affairs of the Peruvian Company and knew nothing except what he had seen in print of a contract between Mr. Blaine and the Credit Industriel. Witness arranged an interview between Count De Montferrand, a representative of the Credit Industriel, and Secretary Blaine, at which witness was present. The count unfolded the plans of his company which embraced a protectorate by the United States. Blaine said he could do nothing and promised nothing. Witness did not know whether Shipherd ever had an interview with the secretary or not. He was often at the department asking for an interview. Randall was at the state department on two or three occasions. Witness never saw the [illegible] papers. It was hard to [illegible] the department without his knowledge. [illegible] was consulted in regard to the Chili Peruvian matter and made a thorough investigation and prepared a statement of facts upon which the secretary could act. He was especially charged with this matter in connection with the preparation of dispatches, and with the exception of the secretary was the most competent person to explain the meaning of every word in the dispatches. He was highly esteemed in the department on account of his high standing as a diplomatist and was selected as commissioner to visit South America for that reason.

The chairman announced that Blaine would again come before them to-morrow morning and the commission adjourned.

Information for Customs Officers.

The secretary of the treasury has published a circular in relation to enforcement of the anti-Chinese law, to be delivered to customs officers. Forms of certificates to be given the Chinese have been prepared by the secretary of the treasury and sent to the bureau of engraving and printing to be engraved in a manner that will prevent counterfeiting. The circular directs the attention of collectors of customs to the act of May 6th, which is inclosed.

To prevent any just cause of complaint as regards the administration of the law, collectors and all other officers will take pains to carefully carry out the provisions of the act so far as it devolves its duties upon them. The certificate must conform in all particulars to the list entered in the registry books kept in accordance with requirements of the act. Names entered in the registry books should be numbered consecutively and the certificates numbered as to correspond. The form of the certificate is as follows:

Number, descriptive list of Chinese labor act May 6, 1882, certificate furnished to the following named Chinese laborer departing from the United States, for production [illegible] turn. To knowingly or falsely alter this certificate or substitute any name for that written in the certificate, or to falsely personate any person named herein as to be guilty of a misdemeanor [illegible] [illegible] this certificate is issued [illegible] with section 4 of an act of the act of congress approved May 6, 1882 to return to and re-enter in the United States [illegible] producing and delivering the same at the time of re-entry to the collector of customs of the district at which he shall seek to re-enter.

Witness my hand and official seal this day of — 18—. Collector of customs port of — 18—.

Representative Page said this afternoon he should see the secretary of the treasury and request him to call the particular attention of the customs officers in the circular to the fact that whenever the word laborer occurs in the act it means skilled as well as unskilled labor.

The W. V. & C. M. Land Grant.

Senator Corkrell reported to-day from the military affairs committee on the message from the secretary of the interior covering information respecting lands granted to the state of Oregon for the Willamette valley and Cascade mountain wagon road. Congress in 1866 granted the lands to the state for the purpose above stated, and in 1874 the lands were patented to the state by act of congress. The legislature of Oregon confirmed to the wagon road company the lands and at various times certificates were issued by the governor to the company as portions of the road were completed. The company subsequently assigned its ownership of the lands to H. B. W. Clark who conveyed the same by deed to [illegible] [illegible] and he conveyed the property to Alexander Weill. Up to June 1874, 107,000 acres were patented to the company and 437,937 acres in 1879 remained selected and unpatented. The interior department raised the question as to the validity of the acts of the authorities of Oregon and the company, and for some time the question has been pending before congress. Reports were made in the last congress and at the present session favoring the regularity of proceedings in connection with disposition of the land. The senate committee reports that the executive department of the government has ample power to investigate whether the laws of congress and Oregon have been complied with or not and if deemed necessary to institute legal proceedings to secure forfeiture of this grant for non-compliance with its terms and conditions, or for fraud and evasions on the part of the company. The committee [illegible] [illegible] order an investigation and refunds the work subject to the executive department.

San Francisco Notes.

San Francisco, May 24.—A meeting of [illegible] Exchange was held after business hours yesterday to obtain [illegible] the offer made by a party desirous of buying the building. It is understood that the building is sold the [illegible] will have the privilege of [illegible] its present board room for a year or two. At the meeting a majority of the members were disposed to sell on this condition.

Six more cases of smallpox were discovered on the steamer Alton over Tuesday.

The steamer Strathairly was found to have on board 845 passengers being 111 in excess of her allowance by her tonnage. This renders the captain liable to arrest and will cost the consignee a penalty of $5000, or $50 per head of excess. No smallpox has yet been discovered on her. A rigid examination will be made to-morrow.

ARIZONA.

Tombstone Topics.

Tombstone, May 23.—The Huachuca Water Company has pipes laid to this city and will be ready to deliver water in a few days. The source of supply is at the Huachuca mountains being the central of several streams from different parts of the mountains. Work has been under way since last July and is a complete success. As finished the main line of pipe, about 25 miles, will proceed from anacre reservoir in the mountains with 6 miles of pipe. It has the greatest fall in the United States of its character. A stream capable of running 500,000 gallons of water daily is in full flow and a reservoir it will be capable of holding 1,000,000 gallons when completed.

The work is contemplated of removal of the quartz mills from San Pedro river to [illegible] The cost of the water [illegible] capital being furnished by the New York, New England & Western Investment Company of New York. The project is of great promise to the future of Tombstone and will be of great benefit to mill men, as more than $10,000 daily is spent in freighting ore to San Pedro river to the mills. The removal of the mills and erection of new ones will be of vast benefit to the community and will largely increase the bullion output.

A Crazy Deed.

Tucson, May 24.—This morning J. M. Water, night watchman here while crazed by drink fired at some people passing. One young man, C. M. Hinton, a peaceful spectator of the proceedings, was shot through the heart and instantly killed. Water shot over a dozen times under the idea that he was being robbed but was finally arrested. The murderer has a wife and three children in Nevada. Hinton who was greatly liked by his associates has a wife in Oakland. He is a printer by trade, but was a sporting man here.

BY STATE TELEGRAPH.

Astoria Notes.

Astoria, May 24.—W. Lair Hill addressed a large crowd at Liberty hall last night making an exhaustive speech of nearly three hours.

The first pile was driven to-day by Holt Bros., contractors for the foundation on which will be constructed the first brick building in Astoria, the 1,000 Odd Fellows hall. I. W. Case will have a vault constructed and remove his bank to this building when completed.

Salmon run is still light. Fishermen are getting discouraged and becoming more venturesome. Accidents by drowning on the bar are becoming frequent and four men are known to be lost since Saturday last.

CAPITAL NOTES.

[From the Oregonian's Salem Correspondent.]

Salem, May 24.

Wallis Nash, Esq., of Corvallis is in the city.

Farmers report the wheat crop in a splendid condition with a large acreage in Marion county.

The state grange is in session and the city is well filled with representative farmers from abroad.

Gen. Meyer has appointed the Dallas brass band as the second Brigade band in the Oregon state militia.

The citizens of Salem have contributed $100 for the purpose of making a base ball ground in the West end of Wills [illegible]

The county candidates are now busking a canvass of the various precincts in the county at large and everywhere in the most cordial manner.

Tiger engine company No. 1 has challenged Capital engine company No. 1 for a match game of base ball. They will probably be accommodated.

William Underwood, Esq., is putting up a fine residence on Commercial street, near Marion square, which when completed, will add materially to the appearance of that part of the city.

The common council of this city has about decided to purchase a new fire steamer for the use of Tiger engine company No. 2. The matter will be definitely settled Tuesday evening next.

Werner Breyman, Esq., has sold his house on State street to Rev. L. S. Knight, who will move at once on Piety Hill. Mr. Breyman will at once commence the erection of an elegant house on the former site.

The Salem Mills Company to-day began needful excavations for the immediate erection of a six story brick flouring mill on their property in North Salem. They will spare no money to make it the most complete establishment of its kind on the northwest coast.

Hon. Jno. S. Smith, democratic nominee for governor, arrived here on the train last evening and received the faithful at the Chemeketa Hotel. He was serenaded by the Capital Guard Band during the course of the evening and in response to calls made those present a brief address. He proceeded south on the train this morning.

The Salem flouring mills company has purchased the Farmer's warehouse and will hereafter run it in connection with their already immense business. W. R. Herren, Esq., has been selected as general manager and a more competent person it would be difficult to secure. M. N. Chapman, Esq., of this city has been appointed notary public for Oregon.

The commissioner of the general land office at Washington has just listed to the state of Oregon about 20,000 acres of swamp lands in what is known as the Chewaucan marsh in Lake county. The importance to the state of this action on the part of the authorities at Washington City is not apparent in the acreage secured, but in that it establishes a precedent [illegible] a forerunner [illegible] [illegible]

Commons Proceedings.

London, May 24.—Harcourt stated in the commons to-day that Michael Davitt was subject to the conditions of his ticket of leave which he revokes if he speaks contrary to law and order.

The commons adopted the motion of Gladstone, that the various stages of the repression bill and the arrears of rent bill shall have precedence over all other business until the house has otherwise ordered.

On motion to go into committee on the repression bill, Cowen (radical) moved an amendment declaring that while the house was desirous of aiding the government in detection of crimes, it disapproves restrictions on freedom of expression of public opinion in Ireland.

Dawson and Russell liberals supported the amendment, and Plunkett, member for Dublin university, supported the bill and Dillon moved to adjourn debate [illegible]

Sporting Notes.

London, May 24.—The derby was won by Shotover, Quicklime second, Dutchman's Sachem third. Bruce, the favorite, came in fourth. The time of Shotover was 2:45½. Betting against Sachem at the start was 3 to 1.

The Egyptian Situation.

London, May 24.—It is understood by private dispatches from Egypt that the state of the situation is becoming alarming and it is generally considered that the presence of Turkish troops will be necessary to prevent an outbreak.

The ministers are inciting the population to represent that the fleets were sent to annex the country.

Cairo, May 24.—The negotiations between the consuls and the ministry have completely failed despite the efforts of the nobility. The ministry refuse further negotiations unless the fleets withdraw. A council of war has decided in favor of active preparation. The official journal publishes the minister's statement intended to tranquilize the public mind, but privately the ministers use menacing language. It is rumored England and France have resolved to send an ultimatum to the ministry and if this is disregarded France will waive her objection to the landing of Turkish troops. The ministers are spreading the report that the naval demonstration was undertaken without the consent of the consul. Arabi Bey's influence is consequently great. [illegible] increasing. The ministry continue hostile preparations and [illegible] torpedoes are being landed along the coast. Native carpenters and smiths were summoned to the citadel to-day. All officers were summoned to Abdin barracks yesterday and required to swear to defend the government against intervention. An attempt has been made to exact a similar undertaking from Bedouin sheiks but they refuse to pledge themselves to resist Turkish intervention. The united squadron has contracted for three months provisions.

Foreign Notes.

The porte of Constantinople has made representations to the Greek cabinet in regard to the dispatch of a Greek man of war to Egypt.

Epsom summer meeting commenced to-day. Woodcote stakes won by Jean Brummel, Hauteur second, [illegible] third. Eight started including Lorillard's Massas.

The arrears of rent bill passed its second reading in commons on Tuesday.

At London wool sales 3600 bales were disposed of, comprising New Zealand and Port Phillip. Competition was spirited and prices firm.

The Cork corporation offers a reward of £1000 for the discovery of the murderers of Cavendish and Burke.

A farmer named O'Donnell was found dead near Tralee yesterday. Believed to be murdered.

The bishop of Limerick has refused to reappoint Father O'Leary to a curacy in his diocese.

A majority of extreme home rulers disregard Parnell's advice to abstain from voting in division on Gladstone's motion.

Synagogue [illegible] Russia, between Vilna and Minsk, has been burned. It is reported the poor have burned children and property placed for safety in the Jewish cemetery.

Jewish Regulations.

St. Petersburg, May 24.—Regulations agreed upon by the committee of ministers and approved by the emperor provide that Jews henceforth shall be prohibited from settling outside of towns and villages, except where Jewish settlements already exist. Jews are prohibited from trading on Sunday and on Christian holidays, but these regulations only apply to governments where Jews are permanently settled. All contracts of purchase or tenancy with Jews are provisionally suspended.

NEWS NOTES FROM EUGENE.

[From the Oregonian's Local Correspondent.]

Eugene, May 22.

We are having delightful weather and crops of all kinds growing nicely.

Mr. Jerry Ream is building a large addition to his undertaking establishment the same to be used for furniture wareroom.

The blossoms on the fruit trees this season has been very heavy and judging from present appearances there will be a very heavy yield of fruit.

Mr. Thomas Belshaw of Creswell, has purchased [illegible] acres of very rich bottom land of Mr. Gillespie. Mr. Belshaw will have the same cleared up and will set out a hop yard next fall.

We are having a surfeit of political speeches from all speakers. The outlook in this county is very favorable indeed for the republican ticket both state and county nominations having been very satisfactory to a majority of the voters. It is predicted that Congressman George will receive in this county more than 100 votes more than at the time he ran against Mr. Whiteaker [illegible] Whiteaker received many republican votes that will not be given to Mr. Fenton. There is one very pleasing and gratifying feature in the [illegible] the decorous [illegible] to all papers in speaking of candidates on the democratic and republican tickets. There is nothing in the way of abuse and vilifying in this campaign compared with that of two years ago. The Chinese question cuts no figure with Lane county voters as we have no Chinese here, all kinds of labor from the skilled mechanic down to the wood sawyer being performed by white men.

ONE CANDIDATE RESIGNS.

F. Opitz Steps Down as a Candidate for the Legislature—R. D. Pitt Substituted.

Pursuant to notice the democratic county committee of Multnomah county met at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon with a full attendance.

B. L. Norden presented his resignation as a member of the county committee from the western precinct and submit [illegible] duties devolving on him as secretary of the state central committee. The resignation was accepted.

The following communication was received:

Portland, May 24, 1882.

To the Democratic County Committee of Multnomah County. Gentlemen: I exceedingly regret that circumstances over which I have no control compel me to decline the nomination on the legislative ticket so kindly tendered me by the democratic county convention of Saturday last. Wishing the ticket full success, I am very respectfully yours,

F. OPITZ.

The resignation was accepted and the name of R. D. Pitt was unanimously substituted in place of that of Mr. Opitz.

Adjourned until to-night.

Miss Lizzie Marcellus, chief equestrienne of Dan Rice's Great Show, met with a very severe accident at Cairo, Ohio, on the Fourth of July last. It appears the act was executing a most difficult piece of ring horsemanship when some boys exploded a fire cracker, causing her horse to leap from the ring and throw her on her head and shoulders, inflicting very severe injuries. It was thought she would be laid up for a long time but the use of St. Jacobs Oil for two days completely restored her to health and only—Chattanooga Tenn. Daily Times.

THURSDAY MORNING, MAY 25, 1882

THE WORLD'S TIMBER SUPPLY.

We may learn a lesson in economy from the serious consequences which have resulted in other countries from the waste of forests. Our forests are the greatest in the world, but they are not inexhaustible, and it is but little less than sinful to wantonly destroy them. Methods of logging and timber making are everywhere on the Pacific coast wasteful in the extreme. A correspondent of THE OREGONIAN, after writing of the timber interest several months ago, after visiting the great mills on Puget Sound and Coos bay, wrote as follows: "Our forests are going out down with a haste and waste which regards only the present, and will in comparatively a few years transform our splendid timber region into a desolate stumpy wilderness. A practical mill man told me that for every million feet of marketable lumber shipped from Coos bay—and the same figures apply to Puget sound and the Columbia river—five million feet of timber is destroyed. Five-sixths of the timber of the country is wasted. Loggers take only the finest trees, and of these only the best cuts, burning the butts, limbs and small trees as the easiest way of clearing off the ground. Large slices of these best cuts are slabbed off and burned. There is no care to save. It is cheaper to go into the forest primeval and choose from its best stores than to potter with slabs and odd ends. Each mill man and logger is making his own fortune, not regarding the interests of the people who will occupy this land fifty or a hundred years from now. It is a ruthless and cruel waste."

The demand for our timber, which will come with completion of the Northern Pacific railroad, will stimulate the manufacture of lumber, and cause such raids upon the great timber areas as have not yet been seen. We shall profit enormously, and, probably, forgetting that there can be but one harvest, will pursue the present wasteful method.

The substitution of iron for wood in many branches of manufacture, has by no means curtailed the world's demand for timber. The many uses of wood, the vast amount of building that is going on in all civilized countries, to say nothing of the rapid multiplication of all kinds of factories, bring us to face with the question: Is the wood supply sufficient for prospective requirements? The United States and Canada, as is well known, have been the greatest shippers of American lumber of late years, but time was when, as many as nine hundred cargoes of timber were annually loaded at Memel for Great Britain alone. Not only is the demand increasing, but, what is the most serious features of the situation, forests are rapidly disappearing, and thus far no efficacious steps have been taken in any country to renew them. Sweden and Norway were one time regarded as inexhaustible sources of supply. All the great forests there were bought up by English merchants and contractors, and now these countries have partly to draw their supplies from farther north, and import their oak from Poland. Northern Russia, which was at one time an immense forest all the way from the Baltic to the Ural mountains, has increased its cuttings so rapidly that St. Petersburg even has to bring its heavy lumber now from the center of the empire. The once great forests of Finland also are almost cleared away. The forests along the Vistula and the Niemen, which may be considered as the sources of supply for the great Memel trade, have receded, we are told, to such an extent that it is difficult to fill orders at Koenigsberg, Tilsit and Dantzig. Germany has upward of 30,000,000 acres of forests, Prussia possessing the larger portion; but their value is greatly diminished by the inferior quality of the pine in the northern provinces. Austria had magnificent forests formerly, and there still remains to her 18,343,810 hectares, or half as much more as possessed by Germany. These are mostly in Bohemia, Galicia and Transylvania, and the fact the they are so far removed from navigation renders them practically unavailable. The forests that once covered the eastern shores of the Adriatic are entirely gone. Italy has a considerable extent of forests—in round numbers, 12,000,000 acres; but the difficult nature of the passes in the Alps and Appenines render it impossible to work them to commercial advantage. Spain has some 8,500,000 acres of forests, but the woodman is hampered here also by the nature of the ground. Portugal, with a good seaboard, has no difficulty in getting rid of the small extent of forest land that now remains—that is to say not more than 1,000,000 acres. Turkey has extensive forests in Roumelia, near Constantinople, and also in various parts of the Asiatic possessions; but the population has been—what Turks proverbially are—destructive, and no provision has been made for systematic replanting. French figures are about 22,000,000 acres of forest. In Great Britain the supply of home wood is simply nothing; trees are there chiefly for ornament; while in Ireland impoverished landlords have ruthlessly cut down woods that have served very important meteorological purposes.

The timber supply in the United States is equal to the present requirements, but it is difficult to foresee what may be the increased demands, domestic and foreign, in the near future. Canada is beginning to attract the attention it deserves and in the face of increasing shipments from St. John, Miramichi, Quebec, and other ports, there is no doubt that even there the supply in the course of brief time may have to be brought from longer distances. The cargoes in 1881 from St. John, N. B., were 800, and the superficial feet of deals 210,281,-[illegible], besides 5,119 tons of birch and 1,549 of pine. In 1872 only 128,791,000 feet were shipped. From Miramichi 279 vessels were sent out last year with 128,311,000 feet of deals, 1,034 tons of birch, 1,008 tons of pine, and 3,886,000 pieces of paling. The total shipments of deals from Canadian ports in 1881 were 409,126,505 superficial feet—a decrease, however, from 1880, when 431,055,674 feet were shipped.

A BILL WHICH SHOULD NOT PASS.

The tardy mails just now furnish full text of the Senate bill introduced on the bill to enlarge the powers and duties of the agricultural department. The argument in which a score or more [illegible] joined, was exhaustive and clearly demonstrated the fact that the bill is a crude and ill-considered measure and ought not to pass. Gen. Browne, of Indiana, stated the serious objections to it. He believed that it was intended to make the agricultural department a political office. So far as it should have this effect, it would remove the secretary further from the people than the commissioner now is. The farmers are suffering from no hardships which would be alleviated by having a secretary of agriculture. They are quite content with a commissioner. They are not demanding the creation of a number of new places for politicians in Washington. They may wish to have the present service improved, but that can be done without requiring the head of it to waste more than half his time in consultation with the other members of the cabinet and the president about political questions and appointments to office. It would almost inevitably happen that, if the head of the department of agriculture should be a political officer, his subordinates down to the lowest collector of statistics would be politicians. The efficiency of the service would be impaired, not improved, by the proposed change. Agriculture is far the most important industry in the United States, but the departments of the government are not organized to represent industries as such, large or small. Our political system is founded on the idea that all industries are represented in each department, and each in all. The department of justice is intended for the farmer as well as for the merchant, and the same is true of the department of state, the department of war, and the navy and particularly the department of the interior. An extra department of agriculture has been organized to meet the special demands of the farmers. It's the merest demagogy to insist that the farmers are neglected or discriminated, because the head of the agricultural department is not expected to sit at the cabinet table and contribute his share of confusion to the councils of the executive. The bill will pass the house, where the professional lawyer friends of the farmer are in the majority; but it will probably be shelved in the senate. If there is to be a new department of the government, it should be organized in a more comprehensive plan than is proposed by any of the bills before the house. If any plan could be developed that would aid the business of agriculture, then the country would demand its passage; but the people are tired of the schemes of politicians who seek to advance their own interests by a pretense of benefiting farmers.

A Salt Lake paper says that Delegate Cannon is kicking like a balky mule at being fired from the house. He proposes to remain near the president until the new commission is appointed for the regulation of the territory. It may be interesting to him to know that the president will not make his selection until the supplementary bill passes giving the commissioners more salary. It has already been discovered that competent men cannot be found who are willing to accept the great responsibilities of the place for the salary named in the law. The increase of salary will be voted slowly if at all. There is some reason to think that ex-Secretary Kirkwood will accept the position of one of the commissioners if the increase of salary is voted, although he is inclined to become the candidate for congress in his district. The Mormons have not abandoned hope of securing representation upon that commission, and have selected ex-Delegate Hooper, who is not a practical polygamist, as their candidate. It is thought probable that Hooper will be the candidate of the Mormon church for delegate in congress, as he represents the Mormon faith without being ineligible under the law. The saints have made up their minds to accept the situation with the best grace they can summon and comply with the technicalities of the Edmunds law and avoid the spirit of it as much as possible. The Edmunds act may be accepted as the beginning of the end.

President Arthur buys cigars by the thousand, but they disappear with surprising rapidity. It is because of the "chums." In explaining the disappearance to the president, Steward Crump is reported as saying: "You know your friends smoke a great deal and drink a great deal. They can't drink more than they can hold, but when they are asked to smoke they usually put a handful in their pockets to every one they put in their mouths, and when they smoke again they go to the boxes for another handful, not to their pockets, for a cigar." This comes of having had associates in the active management of New York city politics.

The explanation of the milk in the Hilton cocoanut is given by a friend of the family of the late A. T. Stewart, who says as soon as Mrs. Stewart dies her heirs will attack the validity of her transfer to Judge Hilton of the business of her late husband for $1,000,000. Hilton, to escape liability, is getting everything out of his name. There is another view, that Hilton didn't know how to manage the business, but had sense enough to stop before he reached the bottom of the hill.

There will be a large increase of the vote of the state in the coming election over any vote heretofore cast. If all the vote is out the total will approximate 50,000. The election can go against the republicans only through default on their own part. All the candidates on the state ticket will have good majorities if the vote is full. If the republicans therefore really want to win they have only to see that their whole vote is cast.

The meanest things in human form in this country seem to gravitate to Washington. Their latest exhibition is the theft from a table of the reception for the benefit of the Garfield memorial hospital of a case of Garfield relics, containing an evergreen from the tomb of the murdered president, a rose from Queen Victoria's wreath and other floral tributes.

Mr. Talmage thanks God, in referring to Mr. Hilton, that one man knows when he has enough. It would be generally appreciated if the verbose Talmage knew when his hearers had enough.

A very suitable man for county assessor is I. N. Sanders. The office requires a man of discriminating judgment, and Mr. Sanders is well qualified for its duties.

NEW TO-DAY.

HUMBUG IS HUMBUG, BUT THIS IS NO HUMBUG.

Having concluded to go out of the Clothing business, we now offer our entire stock of Men's, Youths' and Boys' Clothing at way down prices.

We can't say much about this just now, but you call at 29 First st., and you will hear of something to your advantage.

Humbug is Humbug, but the above is No Humbug.

BIG SIGN AND FOUR WHITE LIGHTS OVER THE DOOR.

A LADY

SAYS:

"THE OVAL CAKE"

Is revolutionizing the Soap Trade. Housekeepers who once try it never again go back to the wasteful, adulterated and incompletely pressed styles heretofore in use. The advantages of

[illegible] & Co's "New" Soap

Over all other Laundry Soaps are:

1st. It is the only Soap molded by STEAM pressure, and consequently contains more soap and less water to the pound than the old style hand-pressed soaps.

2d. The Oval Cake does not, like the other styles, wash away in using to a thin piece, which crumbles and is wasted, but it wears down to a thick lump, which you can stick a fork into and use entirely up.

3d. It contains no adulteration whatever.

4th. It is the handsomest, most convenient to handle, most economical, and (considering its superior quality) the cheapest Washing Soap ever made. m25d2w

THURSDAY MORNING, MAY 25, 1882.

CITY.

YOUNG ROUGHS.—Nine boys, ranging from [illegible] years of age, were brought up in the police court yesterday afternoon, charged with disorderly conduct. They used indecent language to ladies walking in the south part of the city and ended up by having a little Donnybrook fair among themselves. Their names are William Rivers, Eddie Lewlet, Ross Rushlight, George Bradley, Harry Thompson, J. Lawton, Clinton Roe, William Scott and Terence Ryan. Several of them have been brought up for petty offences before, and they may not escape so easily this time. The trial was continued until today.

SPRINKLING THE STREETS.—It is understood that at the next meeting of the common council a gentleman will present a bid for the contract of sprinkling the streets. He proposes to sprinkle each feet front in the city several times a day for [illegible] weekly. There are now 100 blocks in this town, which require to have the dust laid. By taking houses to the street block, this would amount to $ per month, or $1 per month for each property owner and the whole aggregate of the city would reach somewhere about $1744 per month.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—Jacob Wark, who resides at the corner of Fifth and Columbia streets, and works in Pettygrove's saw mill, met with a serious accident yesterday. While working at a "sticker" the fingers of his left hand in some manner became entangled in the machine and three of them were horribly mangled. Dr. W. H. Saylor was called to attend the unfortunate man, and thinks he will be able to save two of the fingers from amputation.

AGAIN MISSING.—Mrs. O. M. Hoyt and C. L. Jackson, the couple who eloped from Batavia, New York, and were discovered recently, through means of the Police Gazette, living at Willsburg under the names of Mr. and Mrs. Thayer, have taken the alarm and fled to parts unknown. They left word that they were coming to Portland, and would stop at the National hotel, but nothing has been seen or heard of them since.

DISTINGUISHED PIANISTE COMING.—A press dispatch from San Francisco says: Madame Julia Rive-King, the pianiste, gave her first concert at Platt's hall Tuesday evening. She met with a warm reception from a number and select audience and achieved a pronounced success. Madame King proceeds to Portland on the steamer of June 3d.

ARRIVED.—The steamer Yaquina will arrive here this morning from San Juan island direct with 3600 barrels lime consigned to Corbitt & Macleay and Wadhams & Elliott. She will sail again Saturday morning at 8 o'clock for another cargo, via Yaquina bay, Victoria and Seattle.

FOOT BALL.—A match game between the two teams of the Columbia Foot Ball club will be played this evening on the grounds of the Bishop Scott grammar school. Kick-off at 6 P. M.

OVERBOARD.—Tony Daugherty, while out rowing near Swan island yesterday, stood up on the seat of the boat. His foot slipped and he fell overboard. He was rescued by George Counties.

MAY FESTIVAL.—The Turners will give a May festival next Sunday at Gambrinus Gardens. In case the weather is unfavorable, the festival will be held the following Sunday, June 4.

FOUND GUILTY.—Owen Garvey, charged with assault and battery upon Mrs. Mary Neville, was found guilty and fined $10 and costs, in the police court yesterday.

THE STEAMERS.—The Oregon arrived in at 10:45 yesterday and reached her dock here at 9:40 P. M. The Columbia crossed to sea at 2:40 P. M.

SALMON SHIPMENTS.—The steamer Columbia carried 3776 cases of salmon from Astoria yesterday, and the Langrigg Hall loaded 5000 cases.

CARRIE BRADLEY'S TRIAL.

JACK MAHONE TURNS STATE'S EVIDENCE AND IS DISCHARGED.

Dolly Adams Tells the Story of the Murder, Heretofore Published, with Several Shocking Embellishments Entirely New.

At the opening of the state circuit court yesterday morning the room filled with spectators. An order was made, on motion of the counsel for the defense, that certain witnesses for the state be excluded from the court room. A number of witnesses [illegible] were called forward and sworn and under the order left the room. The prosecution asked that witnesses for the defense also be excluded, but on inquiry the defense stated that only two witnesses had been subpœnaed, Mollie Fargo and Dolly Adams, and they were in jail.

Examination of witnesses for the state then began. [illegible] testified to having removed the body of a man found in the river below Wetch's saw mill—the body is supposed to be that of James N. Brown.

Coroner Garon testified to having removed the body from the river, and gave accurate description of its position, the stones at the head and feet, and [illegible] all of which is no doubt still fresh in the minds of OREGONIAN readers. The stones which were attached to the body were introduced as evidence. In the cross-examination the defense offered the record of the coroner's jury, but it was objected to by the state as not proper to offer in cross-examination. The objection was sustained, but the court intimated that it might be proper to admit the record at some other stage of the trial.

Constable Simmons was the next witness. He gave his name as Samuel Simmons, and said that he was sometimes called William Simmons. The defense immediately raised the objection that the name W. Simmons was endorsed upon the indictment as one of the witnesses in the examination before the grand jury, when now it turns out that his name is Sam Simmons. The law requires that the names of witnesses shall be endorsed upon the indictment, so that the party charged in the indictment shall have full and complete notice, so that he may have opportunity to know the character of the witnesses. The statute gives that right, and sometimes it is very important. The state claimed that this was not an omission of a name, but simply an error in the first name, and that he is the same person, and there is no difficulty as to identification. The court took the question under consideration, and the witness stepped aside.

A CONFESSION FROM BRADLEY.

D. D. Lavin, saloon keeper, First street, was called; said he saw her in San Francisco and had a conversation with her. Mr. Mason, for the defense, demanded before any confessions should be reported, to know whether these confessions were made under any duress or promises. In response witness said the conversation was in the city jail in San Francisco. No one else was present. Witness saw in the papers that Carrie Bradley was in jail in San Francisco and went to see her. No inducement was offered her to cause her to make any statement to witness. He was sorry to hear that Carrie was charged with murder, and did not believe it until she confessed it to him. In response to questions by the court, witness said she made this statement voluntarily and on her own account. The witness continued: Carrie Bradley told me that the man who was murdered was brought to her house and chloroformed in the house by her and other parties. The man was found dead in the room next morning; said she got Pete Sullivan, Charlie Hamilton and Mahone to throw the body in the river. They took him down in a hack. She said if Sullivan had kept his mouth still everything would have been all right. She did not mention the name of the man who was murdered, but said that he was going to prosecute her house. She said the body was put into a big trunk and carried away in a hack.

Cross-examination—Been acquainted with Carrie for four or five months; left Portland for San Francisco before she did; have been keeping a saloon on First street; had been in San Francisco two weeks when I called on Bradley; the interview lasted about an hour; no one else present; she did not give me any money; she has not asked me to return any money since I came back; she sent word she would like $5 to get some medicine; that was all; I am the husband of the woman known as Bridget Gallagher or Bridget Nihan; do not recollect that I even told Edwin Haight that I did not know anything about this matter since my return from San Francisco; did not tell James Fagan that I did not believe a word of what Peter Sullivan stated; don't remember of ever telling Joe Taylor that I knew nothing of this affair.

At this point the court took a recess until half past one o'clock.

Afternoon Session.

The cross-examination of D. D. Lavin was continued: Did not say to Joe Taylor and others in the saloon of the former that I had been sleeping with Carrie Bradley; have visited her house, slept there and eaten meals there, did not go on errands for her when she was sick; I was married to Bridget Gallagher last March; remember one occasion when I was at Carrie's that Bridget came around there and found me sitting on the bed in Bradley's house, and Bridget took me away; do not know of any difficulty between Carrie and Bridget, although there might have been.

Re-direct—Witness said he forgot a portion of the conversation with Carrie Bradley in the jail at San Francisco. Carrie wanted him to go out and see Jimmy O'Brien and Sanderson and swear the whole business on to Dollie Adams, that no one in the gang that were arrested would object. Witness did not agree to it and did not go.

After a great deal of sparring among the lawyers the witness was permitted to retire.

Oliver Merrithew called—Have lived in Portland since last October; am a lather; am living with Mr. Simmons; accompanied Simmons to San Francisco to get Carrie Bradley; identified defendant's trunk which was produced in court; first saw it in the office of the chief of police of San Francisco, and afterward in the steamer, and it has been at Mr. Simmons' house, in sight of Withers, ever since, until taken to the court house; Bradley told me she came by the steamer Idaho from Victoria under the name of Mrs. McMurtha; said she could have paid some other woman to take the name, the woman would have been arrested and she (Bradley) could have got away and no one would have been the wiser until she was out of reach.

TURNED STATE'S EVIDENCE.

John A. Mahone was called. District Attorney Caples stated that the witness was indicted jointly with the defendant. He was accessory after the fact. Mr. Caples moved that the indictment against him be dismissed, so that he might be used as a witness for the state. The court so ordered. Mahone testified as follows: My home is in San Francisco; was in Portland in October, 1881; knew Carrie Bradley; worked part of the time for Holman & Co. as drayman, and part of the time as hack driver for several parties; was at Bradley's house on the night of October 26, 1881; took Baker's hack there; it was shortly after 12 o'clock; the body was put in a trunk and I went with the hack for it; was in the house when the body was put in the trunk; Charley Hamilton, Pete Sullivan and Carrie Bradley were also present; the body had been taken from under the house; I assisted in carrying the trunk from the house to the hack; the body was taken from under the house by aid of a rope; they had no difficulty in putting the body in the trunk, as it was a large one; after the trunk was put on the foot-board the team started to run and the trunk fell off and the lid flew open; I drove the hack; went to the corner of Washington and Fifteenth streets; here Sullivan and Hamilton got some stones; they rode inside; cannot tell whether they were the same stones now in court, as it was dark; drove below Weidler's mill; trunk was taken by Hamilton and Sullivan to wharf and body taken out and thrown in the river from the wharf; kept the hack there 15 or 20 minutes; then drove to Bradley's with empty trunk; I was in the room at Bradley's when the body was put in the trunk.

Cross-examination—I was jointly indicted with Carrie Bradley. It was my understanding that the indictment would be dismissed if I would testify for the state.

DOLLY ADAMS' STORY.

There was considerable stir and stretching of necks when this witness, who, it will be remembered, was the first to divulge the horrifying secret, took the stand. She testified: Have lived here two years; know Carrie Bradley; knew James N. Brown; saw him about Oct. 26, 1881; had trouble with him about money; was an inmate of Bradley's house; knew Charley Hamilton and Pete Sullivan. After Brown had me arrested for bilking him, he got ready to have Carrie indicted for keeping a house of prostitution. Carrie came to me and said, "Brown's going to have me indicted, and I don't know what I'll do. There's four or five indictments against me now. I will give him money to go away. If he comes here, will you coax him to withdraw the charge?" I said that I wanted to have nothing to do with him. She sent for Pete Sullivan, and told him to bring Brown to her. He said he would. She said, "Be smart about it, and don't let him know that you came from my house, or that you know me." She gave Pete $3 and told him to get Brown drunk and bring him up. That night Pete came back and said that he had seen Brown, who had some friends with him and he could not get to speak to him. The next night Pete came to the house. Bradley said, "Pete, get him full in some den and bring him here." She asked me for some morphine, saying that she had rheumatism. My bottle was nearly empty, so she gave me a dollar to get it filled, which I did. I then went up stairs. Pretty soon the door bell rang. I asked Carrie who it was. She answered that it was Chauncey Dale and that the old —— Brown was in his saloon. Carrie asked me to go with her to Dale's and to talk sweet to Brown, and not to recognize Pete. So we drove to Dale's. Brown was there playing cards. (The witness here related a very long story about Brown, Bradley, Sullivan, "Ace" and herself drinking a number of times in the saloon; about Carrie's appeals to Brown to withdraw the indictment, his positive refusal; his statement that he would go to court next morning at 10 o'clock to sign papers, or something of that sort, and of his finally yielding to these persuasions and getting into the hack. He was then half drunk!)

When we got to the house we sat down in the parlor and Carrie offered to treat. She asked the "professor" to play something lively on the piano, and Pete sang "Wearing of the Green." Carrie got the drinks, and I saw her pour morphine into her hand, then into the glass and stirred the brandy with her fingers. This she gave to Brown, who drank. She sent "Ace" for some chloroform, saying she had a headache. He brought a bottle about six inches long. She went to her bureau and took out two handkerchiefs, saying "I'll fix the old —— ——." Brown was sitting on the sofa, Carrie on one side of him and Pete on the other. Carrie stroked his chin whiskers and caressed him. She rubbed one of the handkerchiefs over his moustache, all the time fondling him. Pete was singing all the while. Pretty soon, Brown said: "I'm getting sleepy; it's getting dark." Carrie kept on applying the chloroform to his nose. Carrie said to let no one in the house, as she was afraid some of his friends might come and take him away and he would have her indicted in the morning. Pete and Carrie got Brown up stairs. She tried to make him take off his clothes, but he was not able to. I took off his coat and Carrie took off his vest. Mollie Thompson (Flippin) came up with drinks, and Carrie said "Which is Brown's drink?" Mollie said she didn't know. Carrie answered, "Well I'll fix it myself." So she put in some morphine and made Brown drink it. He was then put to bed. She said "Now, I've done my work." She took three or four handkerchiefs, saturated them with chloroform, rolled them up in a ball so that the chloroform would not evaporate fast, laid the ball over his mouth, and held it in position with a towel. All of us then went to bed.

When I got up next morning about 9 o'clock I went into the room where Brown was. He had on only undershirt and white shirt. I shook him, but he didn't answer. His body was warm, but his face was pale and there was a purple streak from the top of his forehead down to the tip of his nose. I went down stairs into Carrie's room and told that he was dead. "What did you tell me for?" she answered; "tell Pete. I don't want to go up that cold to me. I'll get sick. I'm glad of it. That —— —— won't indict me again." She came up stairs after a while and asked Pete why he left the man. Pete answered that the chloroform smell made him sick, and that was the reason he came into my room. She "said, 'Oh, I had known you would have left him, I would have sat up with him myself.'" Carrie said to me, "Get down on your knees and promise never to tell about this murder." I told her I would. I got down on my knees for any woman, living. She then asked the room where Brown was, and asked us all to drink. That was about [illegible]. The she said to Pete, "What will we do with him? It is a special from heaven to have him out of the way." She and Pete talked about how to get him out of the way. At last Pete suggested to take up some boards and bury him [illegible] the house. She slapped Pete on the back, and said, "Pete, you are smart about some things, but a [illegible] fool about others." (The witness here told the story of all the minutes of the house having seen and to the White House for the day and while the body was being removed. I brought Brown's clothes down and Carrie burned them in the back parlor stove. She said: "If it wouldn't raise smell, I would cut off his head and legs and burn them." She sent for Charley Hamilton, and said she had killed Brown.

I saw Brown at the morgue and recognized him. Carrie told me not to go there. She said if she could steal the body she would do it, and that she would like to set fire to the morgue. One night she took a can of coal oil and started for Garnold's place for the purpose of burning it down, but she came back saying that some one saw her going to the place.

Cross-examination—Saw Brown three times; I helped him and sent to have me arrested; I had no hard feeling towards him. I was also indicted for keeping a house of prostitution, [illegible] that a prosecution would go as hard with me as with Bradley; [illegible] was to testify against me on the charge of larceny, at Chauncey Dale's saloon all got into a hack, Carrie Bradley, Pete Sullivan, Brown and witness, and drove to Bradley's house. Carrie told witness she was suffering from rheumatism and told her she thought morphine would help her. Witness has the morphine habit and Carrie gave witness a dollar and told her to go and get her a bottle; morphine which she did, got back to Bradley's about half past 9 or 10 o'clock. Carrie gave Brown some brandy with morphine. He drank some and spit it out on the floor. Witness saw Bradley put morphine in the glass, and remonstrated, saying "Miss Carrie, don't do that. Don't give that man morphine." Carrie said, "This is mine, I paid for it, and you mind your own business. If you don't like it you know what you can do." Mollie Thompson told witness to watch Carrie, for she was going to shanghai Brown or put him out of the way in some manner. Brown, with the professor of music and others, was in the front parlor. Pete was singing, and Brown could not have heard what was said to Carrie, as both she and witness were in the back room. Carrie said, "I am going to-morrow to buy two dollars' worth of chloroform and keep Brown chloroformed until the trial comes off." The chloroform was administered by a handkerchief by Carrie Bradley going to her room and soaking the handkerchiefs, one for Pete and one for herself, and they both applied them to Brown's face, Carrie putting her arms about Brown's neck and applying endearing terms to him; Carrie and Pete took Brown up stairs to the front room and put him to bed; it was not witness's bed; it was not her room; Carrie then saturated several handkerchiefs with chloroform and put them in a towel, folded them lengthwise and then poured on more chloroform and Pete Sullivan took the towel and put it around Brown's face so as to cover his mouth and nostrils and then held the same by the ends of the towel at the back of his head; Carrie was standing by, holding a lamp; Brown did not struggle or move; I did not know that would kill him; Carrie went down stairs and witness went to bed; it was perhaps about midnight when witness went to bed.

The next morning when we all found the man dead, witness proposed that the coroner be sent for. Carrie protested against it, and said: "No you don't send for the coroner; if you do they will hold an inquest here and find out that we poisoned him, and they will have me arrested."

In response to the question, "When both you and Carrie were together and no one else present, and the matter of sending for the coroner was proposed, did you not say 'No, for if you do they will hang me, for you don't know what happened after we went up stairs.'" witness emphatically answered, "No, I did not." The cross-examination was very lengthy, but elicited little more than repetition of the testimony given in the direct examination.

At half past five o'clock the court adjourned until nine o'clock this morning.

HOME INDUSTRY.

It is the [illegible] advantage of any undertaking which will result in keeping money amongst us, to encourage those of an enterprising turn of mind. Thousands of dollars have been sent east and to San Francisco for goods, which can be purchased at our very doors, and we hope expenditures in this manner are at an end. Mr. H. B. Litt authorizes us to say that he will do better than any dolman, dress or garment at same figures, and guarantee better finish than can be expected outside of the state of Oregon. Cutting and designing is executed by Mrs. [illegible] and general management by H. B. Litt, as proprietor. Fastening stitches, etc., on the other hand, have to pay charges [illegible] in the way of cutters, book keepers, salesmen, and all in the high living, thus advancing cost of manufacture to the expense of the consumer. By strict economy in the way of using materials, they are enabled to save in making up, and the customer is thereby benefited. Terms are the lime as jobbers, and orders promptly filled, subject to the approval of the purchaser. [illegible] wholesale houses given when desired.

JONATHAN MILLS GRADUAL REDUCTION PROCESS.
OVER 500 MACHINES IN USE.
The Degerminator Splits the Wheat and removes the germ and seam impurities perfectly. These Reduction Machines granulate the wheat, without cutting or abrading the bran. Guaranteed to make rounder and larger middlings and a greater percentage; also STRONGER and WHITER FLOUR than any other system in use.

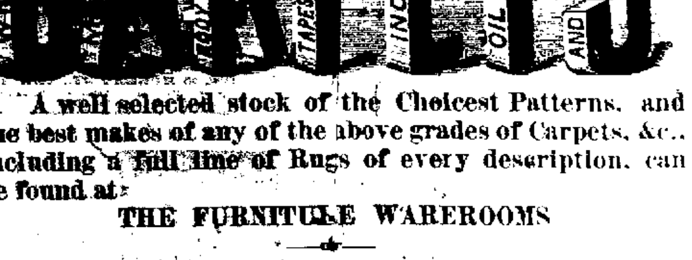

A LIBERAL OFFER TO MILLERS.—Knowing the superiority of the Jonathan Mills Degerminator and Reduction Machines for reducing wheat, we submit the following liberal proposition:

We will set aside the Corrugated Rolls and put our machines in their place at our expense, and without making any other changes, we will guarantee Better Results than are now obtained. In this: that from the same quantity and quality of wheat now used per barrel, we will guarantee a larger per centage of Patent Flour of equal quality to that now made; a less per centage of low grade flour, and a Bakers' Flour superior in color and quality to, and worth more money than, the Bakers' Flour now made in the same mills. If we fail to accomplish the Results as above, we will take out our machines and replace the Rolls, all at our own expense, and in addition, will forfeit to the miller a cash bonus of $2,000 to $10,000, according to the capacity of the mill.

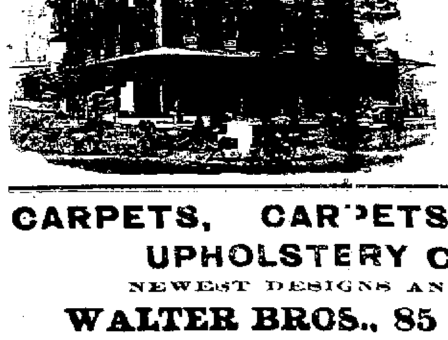

In practical operation at City of Salem Co's Capitol Mills, Salem, Or.
[illegible] Grades of Flour from our Machines.

A TEST CROWNED BY VICTORY OVER THE ROLLER SYSTEM.
In January, 1880, Mellow & Co., of Cleveland, Ohio, bought the Jonathan Mills Reduction Machines and fitted up their "National Mills" therewith, continuing to use these machines for a year and a half. In January last, they were asked to set out the Reduction Machines and put in the Corrugated Roller Mills, subject to acceptance after trial, and had their mills re-arranged, at considerable expense, by practical men skilled in the art of roller milling, aided and backed by all the talent and experience of the manufacturers of Roller Mills. After five months' trial McDow & Co. have thrown out the Corrugated Rolls and put the Jonathan Mills Reduction Machines back into their mill, where they are now in use, because the work of the Jonathan Mills Reduction Machines so far excelled that done by the Rolls.

ON TRIAL, WITHOUT EXPENSE to the Miller. In any mill where Corrugated Rolls are used for reducing wheat, we will put in our machines in place of the Rolls, furnish all shaftings, pulleys, etc., at our own expense, and let the miller run them on trial for 60 days. If the miller chooses to keep them we will charge him the regular price and the actual cost of making the change. If he prefers to keep the Rolls we will take out the machines and replace the Rolls as before, thus insuring the miller a satisfactory trial in his own mill, and without any expense. The Daily Oregonian.

THURSDAY MORNING, MAY 25, 1882.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST.

Eastern Oregon.

[illegible]

The term of the Weston high school, which closed last week, was a most successful one. The attendance has been very flattering and the advancement of the pupils satisfactory.

There has been left in Umatilla county this spring between $40,000 and $50,000 by the different buyers of cattle, sheep and horses. It is estimated that [illegible] sheep have been driven out of the county. The prices paid for these sheep were from $1 50 to $2 25. [illegible] 5000 head of horses have been [illegible] each. It is thought [illegible] sold at an average price of $15 per head. From $20,000 to $30,000 cattle have been sold, at [illegible] per animal.

Southern Oregon.

The United States ganger on a recent visit to Jackson county gauged and stamped about 1000 gallons of spirits, most of which was grape brandy distilled by Raphael Meral. The rest was apple brandy manufactured by Mrs. Wetterer and by the Phoenix distillery.

Washington Territory.

Pierce county is about to build a new court house, covering 42 by 60 feet of ground.

A Christian camp meeting will be held at Marengo, commencing the first Sunday in June.

Cheney Sentinel: The sales of railroad lands for the week ending May 19th, amount to $12,020; town lots, $1150.

A. M. Cannon has 1,000,000 feet of logs on the rivers leading into Coeur d'Alene, which he will commence to drive in about 20 days.

Four hundred and eight acres of land on Deadman creek was sold last week for $6000. Eighty acres of the tract is timber culture land.

Henry C. Adams' sheep camp at Warm springs on the Walla Walla river, was burned on the 15th inst. Loss about $250; cause, defective flue.

Richard Wooten, a resident of Fidalgo island since 1863, died at Anacortes on the 16th, at the age of fifty-one years. He leaves a wife and six children.

As soon as the new warehouse is finished at Cheney, a force of carpenters will go to work on a company boarding house at the crossing on Hangman creek.

The following is the list of graduates of the territorial [illegible]: L. F. Anderson, G. A. Colman, G. H. Judson, H. O. Chipman, and Misses Laura A. Shorey, Lizzie S. Anderson and Addie J. Plummer.

A list giving the tonnage movement on Puget sound for April shows that there were seven arrivals at Port Townsend from foreign ports, and ten ships sailed for foreign ports with lumber valued at about $75,000.

Steve Harris' little son, aged 12 years, was kicked by a vicious horse recently, and his skull badly fractured. The accident occurred at Mr. Harris' residence, near Medical lake. The boy was harnessing the horse when it whirled and kicked him.

On the morning of the 16th inst. a little son of Mr. and Mrs. James Robinson, living near Spangle, was playing with some beans on the floor and by some mishap got one in his throat and strangled to death in a very few minutes. The child was between three and four years old.

During 11 hours and 30 minutes one day last week the Tacoma mill cut 170,750 feet of merchantable lumber, being the largest day's work ever done by that mill. Its capacity is constantly being increased, and the Tacoma people expect their mill to soon average [illegible] feet of lumber per day.

[illegible] a valuable specimen to the collection of home products in the land office. It is a circular box covered with mosses and ferns, on which are mounted bugs, butterflies, beetles, flies, wasps, etc. One hundred and six varieties were counted.

Deep Creek Falls is one of the promising little towns in Spokane county. It is picturesquely situated just above the falls in the center of a fine farming country, has a first-class flouring mill, two stores, a blacksmith shop, and a number of dwelling houses. Everything about the village looks clean and neat.

The financial report of W. H. Bishop, county auditor of Spokane county, shows only $1516 39 debt on the 30th of April. Since that date, about $3730 have been collected from the delinquent tax list, which leaves an indebtedness of a fraction over $700. About $2000 yet remains on the delinquent tax list, much of which will be collected soon. Virtually, the county is out of debt.

Idaho.

The public schools of Lewiston have been closed for the season.

Nearly 3000 tons of grain have already been shipped from the Alpowai shipping point alone the present season and some more to be shipped.

An Indian who acts as the herder for Web Testament, and who is frequently called "Web's little herder," was weighed in Lewiston last week, and his weight ascertained to be 248 pounds. He is both active and dexterous.

Toler: The cattle buyers on Camas prairie have not yet received all the cattle they purchased in that section, and hence are not yet quite ready to start their drives eastward. From the quantity of snow reported to be yet in the mountains, and the condition of the streams on their route, they need not be in a great hurry to make a start.

The O. R. & N. Co. have the frame of a new building up at Texas, of dimensions, 74x44 feet, two stories high, designed for a hotel. It is situated on quite an elevated plateau, a little west of the incline to the landing of the steamers, and when completed will be a fine building for the accommodation of travelers who have to remain there to make connections.

The elevation between Relief station and the summit, a distance of five miles, on the Texas road, is 900 feet, or an average of 180 feet to the mile, and between Relief and Texas, [illegible] a distance of [illegible] miles [illegible] per mile. The company intend to materially lessen these grades by deep cutting before they remove the crop of the coming harvest.

Crops in Iowa.

CHICAGO, May 23.—A number of reports from Iowa points give further details of damage by the frosts of Sunday night, and indicate that last night's cold wave was equally severe. At Boone a sharp frost nipped corn more or less and greatly injured the fruit, especially in the lowlands. About Dubuque, and throughout northern Iowa, there was a heavy frost, and cherries and plums are ruined and apples more or less injured. Along the Iowa division of the Wabash road there was a heavy frost, but corn was not up and no harm done. There was no frost at Keokuk, but it was heavy about Cedar Rapids, and all kinds of vegetation showed its effects. The weather has delayed corn-planting, and farmers express fears that corn already in the ground will rot. At Marshalltown ice is a quarter to an inch thick, and fruit is greatly damaged. Crops were damaged considerably about Burlington. Garden stuff was entirely destroyed, and corn is believed to be extensively injured. Sioux City reports unusual but not destructive cold weather. Leavenworth reports a severe frost in that section of the Missouri valley, which killed much tender vegetation. The grain crops were affected only slightly. The polar wave struck Madison, Wisconsin, and the mercury declined almost to freezing, but there was no frost. Cold weather in that section has retarded but not injured the crops. A cold rain at Lincoln, Nebraska, excited fears that corn would rot in the ground and other grains would be injured. To-day will probably bring more reports of injury, as last night was a cold one throughout the northwest. The night was cloudy and there was no frost here, but early this morning a light snow fell for nearly an hour. There is no change this morning, and prices, instead of being strengthened by the unfavorable reports, were rather weak and declined for the cereals. Receipts of corn were the heaviest of any day this year.

Crops in Tennessee and Kentucky.

NASHVILLE, May 24.—Reports to the state agricultural bureau indicate an increase of 60 per cent. in wheat. It is in good condition, but backward. Oats are fine, with 50 per cent. increase in acreage. The general report is better than for years.

LOUISVILLE, May 24.—The commissioner of agriculture reports the acreage of the wheat crop ten to fifteen per cent. over last year's. Other small grain crops are about the usual acreage. The prospect of all was never more flattering. There will be a large corn crop, and stand almost perfect. The hemp prospect is fair, and a larger acreage by from 10 to 15 per cent. is set apart for tobacco, and plants are abundant.

Boston Wool Market.

BOSTON, May 23.—The market for wool remains quiet and steady. The high prices asked for new wool make holders less anxious to dispose of their old stock, and all desirable XXX fleeces are now firm. California wool is quiet, but when the new begins to arrive more freely a more active movement is looked for. Pulled wools are in fair demand, choice eastern and Maine supers selling at 43@45, combing and good 33@40½. In foreign no change has been made further. Sales of Australia and Montevideo are at steady prices.

New Produce Exchange.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 24.—The Produce Exchange authorizes its directors to notify members making application for admission to the new exchange to withdraw their applications or resign from the old board, or be expelled or suspended. Fourteen members of the old board have made application for admittance into the new exchange.

ALL CHRONIC & DIFFICULT DISEASES

DR. BRENAN WILL GUARANTEE TO CURE any form of disease of the generative organs or private disease. He has become an expert in the treatment of disease, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the

FOLLIES OF YOUTH,

Such as Spermatorrhoea, or Seminal Weakness, or Loss of Perfect Vitality. Nearly two-thirds of all the Chronic Diseases spring either directly or indirectly from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession.

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance, and permit those diseases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted, their organization broken down, and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.

Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances.

Lost manhood perfectly restored. Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Diseases, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint, and all Diseases of the Eye and Ear, Stomach and Bladder, he can cure without fail.

NOTICE OF ANNUAL STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING.

TO THE STOCKHOLDERS OF THE OREGON and Transcontinental Company:

You are hereby notified that the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Oregon and Transcontinental Company will be held at the office of the company, at the city of Portland, in the county of Multnomah, in the state of Oregon, on Monday, the 19th day of June, 1882, at 12 o'clock M. of said day, for the purpose of electing directors of said company to serve for the ensuing year and transacting such other business as may come before the meeting.

And you are further notified that in pursuance of a resolution duly passed at a meeting of the board of directors of said company, held at the office of the company May 31, 1882, the following resolution, authorizing the filing of supplementary articles of incorporation of said company, will be submitted to said annual stockholders' meeting for consideration and adoption, viz.:

Resolved, That the directors of this company be and they are hereby instructed and directed to file as soon as they can reasonably be prepared and executed, supplementary articles of incorporation, amending the present articles of this company by inserting at the end of the 12th clause or section of the first subdivision of Article Three of the original articles the following:

13th—A railroad and telegraph line from a point of junction with the Northern Pacific railroad, at or near the mouth of Washtucna Coulee, in the territory of Washington, in a generally easterly direction up said Washtucna Coulee, by way of Rebel Flat, to a point at or near the town of Moscow, in Idaho territory, with a branch line from a junction with said line near the mouth of Rebel Flat creek, in a generally northeasterly direction, by way of Cottonwood creek, to the town of Farmington, in said territory of Washington.

And another branch line from a point of junction with said line, about three miles west of the town of Colfax, in the territory of Washington, through the town of Colfax, and thence up the north branch of the Palouse river to its head.

14th—A railroad and telegraph line commencing at or near Sand Point station, on the Northern Pacific railroad, in the territory of Idaho, and following down the valley of Clarke's Fork of the Columbia river to its junction with the Columbia river; thence down the valley of the Columbia river to a point at or near the town of Ainsworth, in Washington territory.

15th—A railroad and telegraph line from a point on the Northern Pacific railroad at or near the town of Spokane Falls, in the territory of Washington, by the most practicable route, via the valley of the Colville river, to the junction of said Colville river with the Columbia river, in said territory.

16th—A railroad and telegraph line from, at or near the town of Spokane Falls, in the territory of Washington, down the Spokane river to its mouth.

17th—A railroad and telegraph line from a point on the Northern Pacific railroad, at or near the town of Spokane Falls, in the territory of Washington, in a generally northwesterly direction, via the middle pass of the Grand Coulee to the Columbia river about seven miles above Old Fort Okinakane, with a branch line from a junction with said line at said middle pass of the Grand Coulee, in a generally westerly direction to the Columbia river, at a point about ten miles above the mouth of the Wenatchie river.

18th—A railroad and telegraph line from a point on the Northern Pacific railroad near Lake Colville in the territory of Washington, in a generally westerly direction, by the way of Sylvan lake and Crab creek, skirting the southern slope of the Badger mountains, to the Columbia river, crossing the said river at the most eligible point below the mouth of the Wenatchie river; thence up the Wenatchie river to its head, crossing the Cascade mountains at Ward's pass; thence down the Skykomish and Snohomish rivers to the town of Cadyville; thence in a northerly direction, along the shore of Puget sound to Fidalgo island in said territory of Washington.

19th—A railroad and telegraph line from a point at or near Thirty Mile Well station, on the Northern Pacific railroad, in the territory of Washington, to Ringgold bar, in the Columbia river; thence in a generally westerly direction, by the most practicable route, to Yakima City; thence up the Natches river, crossing the Cascade mountains at Natches pass, thence in a generally northwesterly direction to the city of New Tacoma, in said territory of Washington.

20th—A railroad and telegraph line, from, at or near the town of Ainsworth, in Washington territory, in a generally northwesterly direction up the Yakima river, crossing the Cascade mountains at Garfield pass; thence in a generally northwesterly direction to the city of Seattle, in the territory of Washington.

21st—A railroad and telegraph line from a point of junction with the Northern Pacific railroad, at or near Lake Colville, in Washington territory, in a generally northerly direction, to the big Bend in the Columbia river in said territory.

22d—A railroad and telegraph line from a point of junction with the Northern Pacific railroad at or near Rathdrum station, in Idaho territory, in a northeasterly direction to Fort Coeur d'Alene, in said territory.

23d—A railroad and telegraph line from a point at or near the town of Spokane Falls, on the line of the Northern Pacific railroad, in Washington territory, in a generally southeasterly direction, a distance of about sixty miles up the valley of Hangman's creek, to its head, in the territory of Idaho.

24th—A railroad and telegraph line from a point on the Northern Pacific railroad at or near the town of Cheney, in the territory of Washington, in a generally southeasterly direction to a connection with the aforesaid line, from the mouth of Rebel Flat to the town of Farmington.

25th—A railroad and telegraph line from a point on the Columbia river at or near the mouth of Nesholohpikwa river, in Washington territory, up said Nesholohpikwa river, to the mouth of Noos creek, thence in a generally westerly direction, by the most practicable route, to Lake Osoyoos, in said territory.

26th—A railroad and telegraph line from a point on the Columbia river at or near the mouth of San Puell river, in the territory of Washington, in a generally northerly direction to a junction with the last-mentioned line, about forty miles east of Lake Osoyoos.

27th—A railroad and telegraph line from a point on the Columbia river at or near the mouth of the Okinakane river, in the territory of Washington, in a generally northerly direction to Lake Osoyoos.

28th—A railroad and telegraph line from the town of Lewiston, on Snake river, in Idaho territory, in a generally easterly direction up the valley of Clearwater river, crossing the Bitter Root mountains to the town of Missoula, in the territory of Montana.

29th—A railroad and telegraph line from the town of Lewiston, in Idaho territory, in a southerly direction, up the valley of the Snake river, to a point at or near Boise City, in said territory.

30th—A railroad and telegraph line from a point of junction with the Northern Pacific railroad, running from the town of Kalama to the city of New Tacoma, in the territory of Washington, about [illegible] miles south of said city of New Tacoma, in a generally northerly direction to the city of Seattle, in said territory.

Also by inserting at the end of the eighth subdivision of Article 3 the following subdivisions:

9—To the State and also in the construction, and to contract for the construction, building, extension, equipment and operation of any railroad or telegraph line, steamship or steamboat line, in any of the provinces of the Dominion of Canada, and in any of the states or territories of the United States, connecting or intending to connect, or exchange traffic with any railroad, steamship, or steamboat line of this corporation, or with the roads or any of the branch lines of railroad of the Northern Pacific Railroad company and to construct, equip, and operate under such contract or contracts, any such railroad or telegraph line, steamship or steamboat lines.

10—To subscribe for or purchase the shares of stock or bonds of any company owning or operating any railroad and telegraph line, steamship or steamboat line, in any of the provinces of Canada, and in any of the states or territories of the United States, connecting or intending to connect with, or exchange traffic with any railroad, steamship or steamboat line of this corporation, or with the main line or any of the branch lines of railroad of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, and to guarantee or otherwise secure the payment of such bonds and interest thereon, and stock and dividends thereon, by pledge or mortgage of the property of this company or any part thereof, or otherwise.
